Experience Over 950 Biomedical and Life Sciences Seminar Style Talks by Eminent World Authorities

- Online talks specially commissioned and organized into comprehensive series that cover both the fundamentals and the latest advances
- Only eminent authorities of the highest standing in their respective fields, gathered together, presenting the material in their own personal styles
- Simple innovative format – animated slides with accompanying narration, synchronized for easy listening
- Collection is constantly updated and expanding to over 1,000 talks
- Experience the talks when you want them, as often as you want them
- A “must have” resource in the biomedical and life sciences whether in academic institutions or industry

“This is an outstanding collection. Alongside journals and books no self-respecting library in institutions hosting research in biomedicine and the life sciences should be without access to these talks.”
