

Would you like to include new content in your course, but don't have time to look?

Complimentary Content Matching Service

As part of your university's subscription to The Biomedical & Life Sciences Collection you have access to our complimentary content matching service to streamline the process of identifying and incorporating relevant talks into your teaching/research.

To see relevant content in your teaching/research area within The Biomedical & Life Sciences Collection - simply send over a course outline, syllabus, or details of the topics you are interested in, and our Scientific Content Specialists will research, identify, and put together a full list of tailored recommendations.

Send us your syllabus here.

Contact subscriber support:
access@hstalks.com