

Talk to the Hiring Manager - Interview Questions

What's in it for you?	Questions you can ask
Time	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• This role is very exciting and includes a number of responsibilities. Can you help me identify the prioritized responsibilities and describe how much time (in percentages) will be spent doing these tasks?
Development	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Your organization seems to be committed to the development of its employees. What steps are you taking to promote the development of your early career talent?
Prioritized Skills	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• If you think about the individuals that have been successful in this role, what were their top 3-5 skills?• What training does the organization offer to help build the skills required to successfully perform this role?
Metrics	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• What kinds of performance metrics are used to evaluate success performance in this role?• If I had a successful first year in this role, what would I accomplish?